

Created By
NWWA Diversity
& Well-Being
Committee

CAREGIVER EQUITY & WELL-BEING

NWWA Caregiver Equity & Well-being Initiative

OUR COMMUNITY COMES FIRST

In 2020 Providence NWWA launched a Caregiver Equity and Well-Being Initiative under Providence Institute for a Healthier Community, Collectively, our goal is to support individual practices and a community culture that improves caregiver well-being and equity, together. We all have a role to play – through our own self-awareness/practices, through our contributions to our work team & organization culture, and by advocating for supportive system polices/practices.

Embrace

Caregiver Resource Groups

Diversity & Well-being
Committee

Events

Empower

Caregiver Well-being & Equity
Resource Hub

NWWA Caregiver Community Health &
Well-being Monitor

Leadership and Department Action
Plans (LEEP and DEEP)

Equip

Education & Trainings

Access to Equity & Well-being
Information and Resources

Toolkits

For More Information Or To Get Involved:

KAILA ALVAREZ
Diversity Equity and Inclusion Manager
Kaila.creamer@providence.org

Caregiver Diversity & Well-Being Committee

YOU'RE INVITED TO JOIN THE DIVERSITY & WELL-BEING COMMITTEE

The Diversity and Well-Being Committee (DWBC) is a Caregiver centered committee focused on empowering our Caregivers in leading diversity, equity and inclusion and well-being initiatives for our patients, for our community, and for our own Caregivers. This committee meets once a month to reflect, share resources, plan upcoming events, and network with other Providence Caregivers.

“At the heart of diversity, equity, and inclusion is a vision to create a world where people are SEEN, people are HEARD, and people are LOVED.” – Kaila Alvarez (She/Her/They) , NWWA Manager of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.

For More Details or to Join the Committee, Contact:

BROOKE CHINNA
Diversity Equity & Inclusion Committee Lead
Brooke.Chhina@providence.org

